CLASS ODE

With saddened hearts we come today,
With smiles to keep our tears away.
And as we look upon the past,
And wish that somehow it could last,
Beyond an open gate, there lies,
An ever-dreamed-of Paradise.

There lies the future we have planned,
To which we now march hand in hand,
But if we do not reach the goal,
Let's strive to make our courage whole,
And if we fail in what we do,
Let's be ourselves, and start anew.

Our gratitude we can't conceal,
To those who made our lives so real,
Who taught us well the Golden Rule,
Who made us worthy of our school,
We'll not forget how kind they've been,
Though we'll not cross their paths again.

The time has come, we're ready now,
Before our school, to make our vow,
That we shall try to gain success,
And through it all, have truthfulness,
So just to make our lives worth while,
Let's start the future with a smile!

Adeline Mae Moore

CLASS SONG

We chose for our motto
"Not for school, but for life."
It has guided us through
All our struggles and strife.
We all have ambitions
That we hope to fulfill
In our journey through life
Up the long, winding hill.

In all our endeavors,
And in all that we do,
Let's not get discouraged
For we're sure to come through.
We're bound to have trials,
Maybe failures—who knows?
But to be a success
We must Conquer these foes.

So, classmates, let's start
On our tedious climb
With hearts filled with courage
And a feeling sublime.
When we do reach our goal
And the end of our strife,
Let's give thanks to our motto
"Not for school, but for life."

PEARL IRENE ADAMS

"Still waters run deep"

Pearl is one of our quiet and studious classmates. Those who know her intimately have found her to be a true friend, and her pleasant smile, fine manners, and taste in dress are recognized by all. A little birdie told us that she will some day be a nurse— Best of luck, Pearl.

FLORENCE IRENE ALLATT

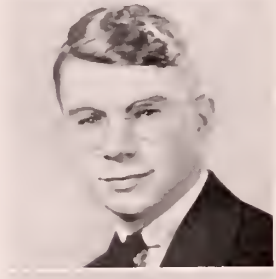
"Rah! Rah! Rah! for M. H. S."

Introducing one of our best football fans. Florence can always be found, in the heat of an exciting game, cheering for our boys to get that touchdown. Her artistic ability is also well known throughout the school, and we predict a successful future for Florence.

PAULINE WEALTHY AUSTIN

"Quiet and sweet, thoughtful and neat"

One of those quiet and refined young ladies whom we are glad to have in our class, Pauline has won the friendship and respect of many. She has been following the Commercial Course and will undoubtedly be an efficient secretary. Here's to success, Pauline.

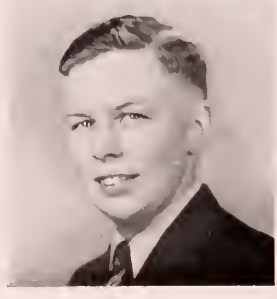


FRANCIS WILLIAM BAILEY

"If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you—"

Traffic Squad — Year Book Staff 4
Captain, Cadets

Here is a prominent member of our Traffic Squad and a Captain in the Cadet Corps. One can't help noticing how well he wears his uniform. The news seems to be spreading around that Francis will take up Civil Engineering, and we heartily wish him luck in this field.



WILLIAM CHARLES BARRACLOUGH

"Women delight me not"

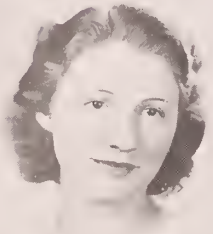
Although William seems very quiet, we are sure he can make his share of the noise. He is informally known as "three chin" and is one of our ace woman-haters. With your natural good humor as an aid, success should be easy to win, Bill.

BART DAVID BARRY, JR.

"Look before you leap"

Student Council, 3, 4 Track 2, 3; Captain 4
Football 3, 4

Bart is well known because of his activity in athletics, but his versatile nature has brought him honor in the Student Council as well as in track. No doubt Bart will make a record jump to success when he leaves M.H.S.



RUTH MAE BEANLAND

"A smile like the summer sun"

A pleasant smile introduces you to one of our busiest and most likeable Seniors. Ruth's cheerful disposition has won her many friends in the past and will continue to do so in the future. Best of luck in all your enterprises, Ruth, and may you meet success around the first corner.

HENRIETTA LAURA BEAULIEU

"The blushing beauties of a modest maid are hers"

Class Ode

Henrietta is a fair-haired girl who is rather demure in school, and whose poetic ability was unknown to many of us until she wrote our class song. At skating, swimming, and bicycling she ceases to be the quiet maiden we know at school, but becomes not less likeable. Good luck, Henrietta.

MARION JUNE BELL

"Business and pleasure can be made to mix"

A little girl with a big smile and soft giggle, Marion can often be seen hurrying through the study hall and corridor to her next class with an armful of books and a studious look on her bright face. We know that her mind is not always on studying when she seems to be concentrating, because a big smile creeps over her face as she sits in the study hall. Here's to happiness, Marion!

MALCOLM O. BENNERT

"He has an eye for beauty"

Malcolm is one of our boys who "gets around" most, and he is noted for his preference for blondes. A school dance, play, or game would not be a success without Mal. Will he be a doctor? Only time will tell! We all wish him a lot of luck in whatever field he finally chooses.

HELEN LOUISE BISHOP

"Sincere and modest, success is for her"

Helen and her guitar have added much to the joy of our high school days. A sincere and friendly girl, Helen is well liked by all who know her. Keep up the good work, Helen, and you'll reach your goal.

FRED PAUL BOHNE

"Popular and clever—dancing is his pleasure"

It gives us great pleasure to introduce to you Fred Bohne, a popular member of the class of '38. His pleasing personality has won him many friends, both in and out of school. It is rumored that he will become a draftsman in the future, so here's to success, Fred!

ANTOINETTE BONANNO

"Happy and gay, she goes on her way"

Antoinette is one of our petite, dark-haired Seniors, but her height, or lack of it, has not been a handicap to her. Her jovial and friendly air has been the main factor in her rapid gaining of friends among her classmates. Don't let your size keep you from doing big things, Antoinette!

DOROTHY MAY BOOTHBY

"Something old, something new;
Something borrowed, something blue"

Here is a serious and rather shy member of our class, but rumors have it that Dorothy will become a blushing bride soon after she graduates. May your future life be a very happy one, Dot.

DOROTHY CORRINE BOURGEOIS

"On with the dance"

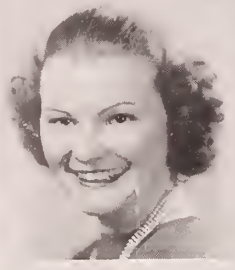
Various Committees

Peppy, jolly, and petite, Dot is well-known and liked by her classmates, who are often entertained by her clever dancing. We'll always remember how hard she worked on those costumes for the Girls' A.A. during her senior year. Don't be surprised if Dot's dancing makes her a rival of Ginger Rogers.

PAULINE THERESA BOYNES

"With a touch of gaiety about her"

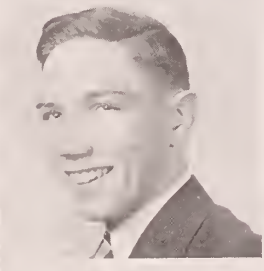
Another of our quiet friends from whom a giggle emerges once in a while. Although Pauline has not definitely decided on her future career, we are certain that her pleasant and neat appearance will help her to success.



LILLIAN BREARLEY

"In sweetness of her looks and mind
By virtue, first, then choice, a Queen"

Introducing to you our Queen—Lillian—sweet, demure, and beautiful, with a crown of burnished gold. The class of '38 has shown to the world that it is a competent judge of beauty, by choosing Lillian as its fairest member. Well dressed at all times, she is indeed an asset to our class.

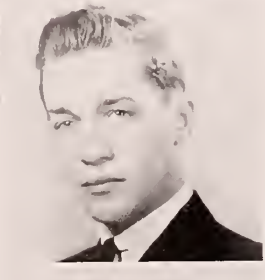


NEWTON WILLIAM BRIGGS

"Dashing up the hill
On almost any day"

Football 4

Fun-loving, reckless-driving "Newt." He passes in his car, but is back in a flash to pick up anyone who wants a ride. Ask the girls of M.H.S. about that! This tall, dark, young man is very popular with the faculty and his classmates. May your future be as peppy as your car, Newt!

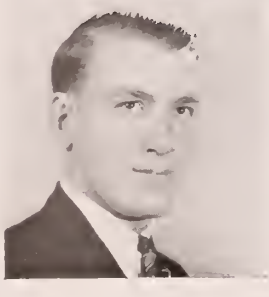


LOUIS MICHAEL BRUNO

"Let Swing be king"

Orchestra 2, 3, 4 Band 3, 4

Louie is one of the most popular and likable members of our class, with a cheery smile and a kind word for everyone. As a musician he is "tops." We all love hearing the silvery tones of his "sax," and his wit is well-known. A brilliant future is foreseen for you, Louie.



EUGENE ANDREW BUCO

"He's the silver lining to our dark clouds"

Eugene's ready smile is a tribute to a sunny day. Although he left high school after completing his Junior year, he returned to become a member of the class of '38. He has contributed to our success, and we are glad to have him as a classmate. Happy days, Gene!

MARY KATHLEEN BULLOCK

"Just be natural; you're naturally nice"

Mary and her trumpet have done a great deal to make our band the outstanding success that it is. Her shining face is visible every time the band plays, whether at a football game or at school. May she always be just her sweet and natural self!

MARION ELEANOR BURKE

"A worthy opponent in any game"

This tall young lady has sent many peals of laughter ringing through the halls. Marion's grin and cheery greeting are both well-known and looked for at high school. Her activity in sports has won her much praise, and we are sure that her ambition to be a gym teacher will be fulfilled.

DOROTHY MAE CARNEY

"Good natured, pleasant, and winning;
Your life with joy will be brimming"

Year Book Staff

A sociable girl with a winning smile, Dot has a host of loyal friends. We have enjoyed her pleasing disposition and jovial manner during our high school days, and we wish her luck on her secretarial career. Cheerio, Dot!

NATALIE JOAN CASHIN

"Success is won by honest toil"

Identified by her pleasant manner to all with whom she comes in contact, we have known Natalie to be one of our most loyal classmates. Although she manages to combine work with studies, neither one suffers. Best of luck, Natalie.

BERNICE L. CHADWICK

"A little acid carelessly spilled,
And my stockings now with holes are filled"

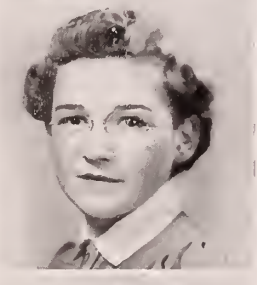
Peppy, friendly, and petite; that's Bernice! One of the youngest members our our class, she is determined to enter college next year. A very talkative but joyful person, Bernice has had a grand time in the "lab." Good luck, Bernie!

ANTONIETTA GRACE CHIAVARO

"With a smile for everyone, great honors she has won"

Blue and White 4 — Ivy Orator
Year Book Staff — Various Committees

Antoinetta is one of our most brilliant and active students. She is always ready to help those not so quick to learn things. We shall always remember her shining dark hair, sparkling eyes, and beaming smile. Voted the most likely to succeed, Antoinetta is already on her way to the top.



JANET EILEEN COLLINS

"Quietly she rises to the top"

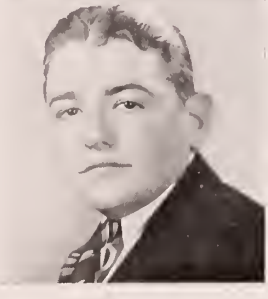
Introducing a rather shy, quiet girl. However, her timidness seems to be more of an asset than anything else, for her retiring manner has won her many friends. We wish you loads of success in all your ventures, Janet.

KATHLEEN RUTH CONNOR

"This life is most jolly"

Senior Play — Year Book Staff
Class Phophecy

Better known as "Chickie," this likeable miss was one of Mr. Brown's brightest chemistry students. She has enjoyed her high school days and amused herself by kidding the masculine members of the faculty. Chickie spent many hours trying to blow up the "lab" but never succeeded in doing it. We'll all miss you, Chickie, but know you will be a wonderful nurse.



DONALD JOSEPH CREGG

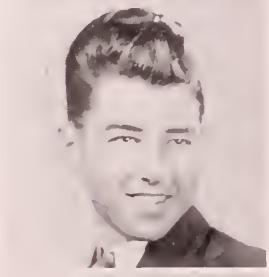
"Sound sleep most does please"

This is one boy that the good country air failed to lengthen. Poor Don! He is doomed to be a "runt," but in spite of this apparent handicap, he has kept the school full of life and fun. Continue to get a lot of sleep, Don, even though you have to get some of it in class!

ROSE DI LAVORE

"And the day shall have a sun"

This petite young lady's dark hair, brown eyes, and ready smile have always greeted us in the corridors. We have often seen her teaching some of the latest dance steps to her friends. May your future be as gay as your dancing, Rose!



GEORGE BERNARD DOBBINS

"I've seen the smiling
Of Fortune beguiling"

Here is the greatest instructor in cheerfulness our school has. Snookie has, as the saying goes, "what it takes." Handsome?—Mmm; cheerful?—Mmmm! What more could one wish for in a Senior boy? Snookie is a fine companion, and we hope that his future will be as sparkling as his personality.

HARRIET ADELAIDE DUNKASON

"Serious, witty, clever, and pretty"

Senior Play

Some day this young lady will be a member of the "white parade," as she will enter the Lawrence General Hospital in September, to train for the nursing profession. She certainly did a great job in the play, and would make an excellent actress, we are sure. Best of luck, Harriet.

ETHEL CAROLINE DUVERGER

"Now labor her reward receives"

A quiet and polite senior who has smiled her cool, calm and collected way through high school; we introduce Ethel. Although usually very serene, we have known Ethel to be very much bothered by trifles. Her ambition to be a beautician is worthy of her efforts. We wish you luck and loads of new hair styles!

DOROTHY THERESA ESPINOLA

"Cheerfulness, a nymph of healthiest hue,
Her bow across her shoulder flung"

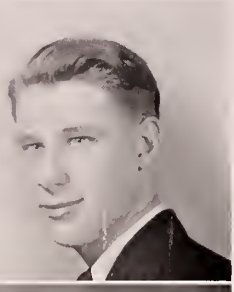
Our very attractive Dot desires to become a bookkeeping teacher. If she is one half as diligent in her studying of this profession as we have known her to be in high school, she will certainly attain success. With Dot to teach them, the pupils of the future will have a reason to enjoy bookkeeping!

BARBARA ELIZABETH EVANS

"A face with gladness overspread,
Soft smiles, by human kindness bred"

Girl Reserves

Barbara is well-known throughout the school as the girl with the pleasing smile. As secretary of the Girl Reserves, she has done a good job, and her activity in all school affairs is worthy of mention. She is sincere in all matters from the smallest to the most important, and we are certain that success will be hers.



HERBERT ARTHUR FINDEISEN

"Merrily, merrily, I shall live now"

Secretary 2 — Football 4
Baseball 2, 3 — Lieutenant, Cadets 4

"Herbie" is known for his jovial manner, his way with the ladies, and his excellent work as cashier in our cafeteria. This peppy young man, individual with his snappy clothes and his nick-name of "Wheezie," has been very active in athletics and other school affairs. Keep up the good work, "Herbie."

WILLIAM FOX

"Oh, for the open road"

Whenever there is anything going on, you can be sure that "Barrel" will be there. If you think you see a forest fire in the distance, approaching quickly, you are wrong; it is just Foxie with a new shirt! Though a puzzle to many an English teacher, his pleasing personality and winning smile will carry him a long way on the road to success.

BERTHA EVELYN FREEMAN

"Her stateliness is queenly"

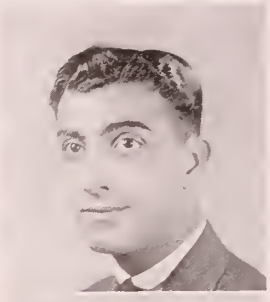
Blue and White 4 — Senior Play

Tall, stately and charming, Bertha, who is very much interested in dramatics both in and outside of school, has, by her quiet, agreeable manner, won many friends. We all join in wishing her the greatest success in life and in her career as a journalist.

NAIMY EVA GABOUR

"Fun and laughter are everywhere"

What would our Senior class be like without this dark-haired miss with her pleasing way of adding a touch of humor here and there? Naimy has taken an interest in all school activities and athletics, and wherever a helping hand is needed, there you will find Naimy. Here's to you, Naimy! Keep your sunny side up.



SAMUEL HABIB GABOUR

"All work and no play makes Sam a dull boy"

Track 2

Sam, a black-haired Romeo to the ladies; to his friends a regular fellow; and to the world an endeavoring young man. Sam is one of our witty seniors who, in his mischievous manner, has caused many uproars in his classes. May your future pranks keep winning friends for you and brighten your road of life.

JACQUELINE DOLORES GANLEY

"For that's a narrow joy is but your own"

Jackie, that fair, curley-haired miss, is very ambitious, but the most talkative member of our class. Everyone in search of a friend would do well to look up Jackie, for she has proved herself most loyal. We are certain to miss your charm and your flashy "Chevvy" next year, Jackie. May you realize your ambition of becoming a doctor and keep the family's colors waving.

CLAIRE A. GARRITY

"For heaven such grace did lend her
That she might admired be"

A sweet smile and a charming personality have helped this attractive colleen gain many friends and win many glances of approval from the boys, as well as the girls. Her ability to say a great deal in few words has characterized her during high school. So in a few words we wish her a "smiling future."

EDGAR PHILIP GAUMOND

"Nor cares who him excels"

Captain, Cadets 4 Traffic Squad

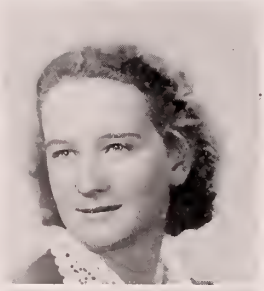
"Eddie," a quiet, ambitious traffic officer, with his priceless sense of humor makes it a pleasure to take the long way around to the third floor. He goes his own way, and lets everyone do the same, but still manages to take an active interest in school affairs. We have not been informed of Eddie's future plans, but we feel sure that all his efforts will be greatly rewarded.

CATHERINE AGNES HANLEY

"She's just an All-American girl"

Basketball 2, 3, 4 A. A. Committee 3
Glee Club 4

Kay is one of our model girls; she has an engaging personality, a quick wit, and a charming smile. Kay has displayed outstanding ability in the field of sports. To add that finishing touch to all these excellent qualities, we find a deep sincerity and an understanding nature.

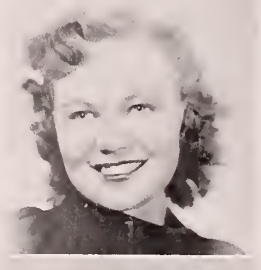


VIRGINIA HARDMAN

"Every inch a sport"

Basketball 3, 4

Virginia joined our class in her junior year, and although she hasn't been with us long, she has made many friends. A good sport and marvelous basketball player, Virginia has proved indispensible to the team. Southbridge lost, but Methuen gained, Virginia.



LOIS HARRIS

"She was only a country maiden"

Girl Reserves Various Committees

Lois is another of those shy, winning girls who came to us from the country. Her charm has won the admiration of all, and her loyal support and willing help will long be remembered. We foresee a great deal of happiness for you, Lois, if you just flash that smile.

GRACE M. HAWKINS

"And tunes her merry note
Unto the sweet bird's throat"

Orchestra 2, 3, 4

Grace is pleasant, good-natured, tactful, and neat, but more than that she is a talented violinist who has been a great asset to our high school orchestra. Our wish for her is that we may someday see her in a symphony orchestra.

RITA MARY HAWKINS

"Were there all harmony, all virtue here"

Orchestra 2, 3 Chorus 3, 4

Rita, a popular member of the class of '38, is interested chiefly in music, and played the violin in the school orchestra for two years. Outside of school her main interest is Girl Scouts, and we've been told that she makes a fine lieutenant. Keep up the good work, Rita.

GRACE HELEN HENDERSON

"Forever temperate, calm, and wise"

Year Book Staff 4

Neat, courteous, and studious are the words that most accurately describe Grace. Although her chief interest lies outside the walls of our high school, she has been a diligent worker for the class of '38. We hope that her path along the road of life will be smooth.

MARTHA CHRISTINA HENNING

"Sure by quick nature happiness to gain"

Orchestra 2, 3, 4 Glee Club 3, 4

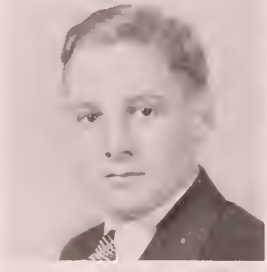
ELSIE HETHERINGTON

"Joy tunes her voice"

Basketball 3, 4 Girl Reserves 4

Class redhead and class giggler are the titles the class of '38 bestowed on Elsie. Her merry laughter is heard around the school at all times, and she also takes it to the basketball games! Keep smiling, Elsie!



JOHN AUGUSTUS HOEGEN, JR.

"Then let me live, unseen, unknown"

One of those unobtrusive boys, John goes his own way very quietly. Although he is not well-known, those who claim him as a friend are fortunate because he is loyal and dignified. Here's to happiness, John.

AMY HOLLINRAKE

"Would we might triumph so!"

Glee Club 4

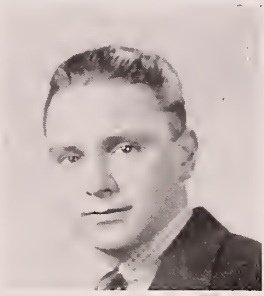
That Amy has been a serious and ambitious student is proved by the fact that she won two essay contests during high school. Her quietness, and neat appearance have an individual charm, and her dimpled smiles catch every eye.

MADELINE PATRICIA HOLMES

"To these we owe true friendships"

Girl Reserves

Quiet and attractive, Madeline is known to the class of '38 as a sincere friend. Her willingness to help others, her beautiful dark hair, and her shy smile are all valued by her classmates. May you find happiness, Madeline, in your career as a dental nurse.



ROBERT HUEBNER

"Three cheers for Bob Huebner"

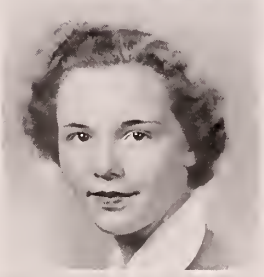
As a gridiron star, we've all seen Bob in action. If he tackles his future as fairly and with as much determination as he plays football, life should be successful indeed. Remember the rules of the game, Bob, and you'll surely win.

ROBERT PHILIP HUME

"An equal mixture of good humor"

Basketball Jr. manager 3 — Blue & White Staff 4
Year Book Staff 4 — Class Historian

Bob is the real student of the class. No subject is too difficult for him, and he excels in both mathematics and English, a rare combination. He is a firm believer that pleasure should be mixed carefully with the serious business of life. Good luck, Bob!

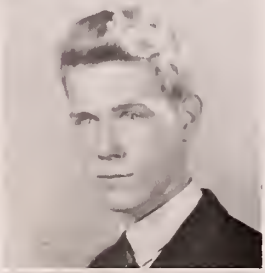


ALICE L. HYDE

"Youth is full of sport"

Basketball 3, 4 — Girl Reserves 3
Glee Club 4

A shrill giggle, a rush of feet, a slam of the door, and here is Alice. At athletic contests, her presence is betrayed by a merry laugh, and the school dances have also seen her sparkling personality. Keep that pep, Alice.



HAROLD G. HYDE

"I would have her dark and pretty"

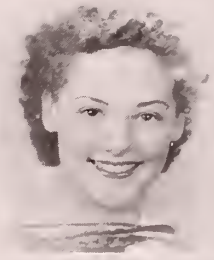
"Did" is another "law and order" man in our corridors. His engaging smile makes it a pleasure for the fair sex to take the long way around. Did's major interests outside of school are music and dancing, and he is often seen escorting attractive girls, particularly if they have dark hair, to dances. Your success as a dentist is assured, Did, if you continue to be your charming self.

AURORA ALICE JANIAN

"To reach the top is my desire"

Valedictorian — Glee Club 3, 4

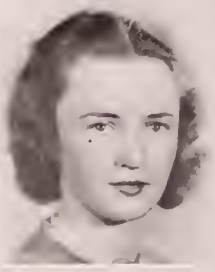
Helpful, courteous, and ambitious, Alice has reached the top in scholastic ranking, and will probably do so in the business world. She takes her studies very seriously, with the result that she outdoes the rest of us. To know you is to love you, Alice, and we all wish you luck.



DOROTHY RUTH JEAN

"Warm charity, the general friend"

Dot, a seemingly quiet girl, has proved to be a good friend to the few who know her well. Her agreeable nature and competent manner are previews of the success we feel sure the future holds for her.



MARGARET PATRICIA JENKINSON

Student Council 3, 4 — Glee Club 4
Girl Reserves 2 — Blue & White Staff 4
Senior Play — Various Committees

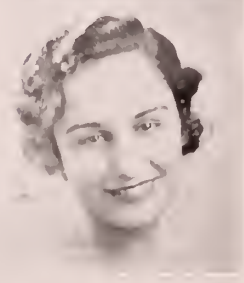
A giggle, an impudent smile, acting beyond compare, clever dancing, and a flirtatious nature—these are all part of the most sociable and most popular girl in the class of '38. Pat has twisted the members of the so-called "stronger sex" around her little finger, and, needless to say, they love it! Just smile your way through life, Pat!

OSAN KACHADORIAN

"All the world conspires to praise her"

Basketball 2, 3 — Various Committees

We are all familiar with Osan's happy smile, pleasant disposition, sparkling brown eyes, and lovely black hair. She is one of the most congenial girls in the class, and her friendship is valued. Remember the watermelons, Osan?



ROSE KAMBEGIAN

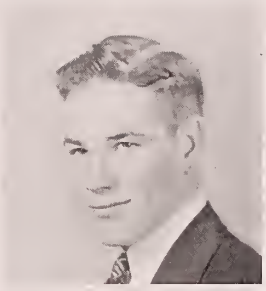
"But busy, busy, still thou art"

Rose is one of our ambitious, serious students who work in the cafeteria. We will all remember her smiling presence there, for she managed to have a grin for all who ate there. Here's to continued smiles and happiness, Rose.

OLGA KATENEVICH

"Little less than an angel"

Tall, silent, and serene aptly describes Olga's charm. Her lovely smile betrays her presence to us, but she is never talkative. Neatness is indeed one of her virtues, and her future is certain to be bright if she stays as sweet as she is.



ALFRED KAYWORTH

"How appealing is his shyness"

"Spotty's" cheery grin is one of the things that will serve to make the class of '38 memorable. His shyness is very attractive, especially to the fair sex, among whom his popularity is great. The echo of Spotty's happy "hello" as we pass his traffic post on the first floor will remain with us. Keep it up, Spotty!

FAITH BARBARA KENNEY

"Demure and dignified is she
But full of fun as she can be!"

Editor-in-Chief Year Book — Class Will
Various Committees

Introducing one of our most popular young ladies. Faith certainly has what it takes to make the handsome males follow at her heels, and no wonder, with such a winning smile. Our Editor-in-chief has done a grand job, and in the future will specialize in photography. Here's wishing you heaps of fun, Faith, and may you find success!

DOROTHY E. KLEIN

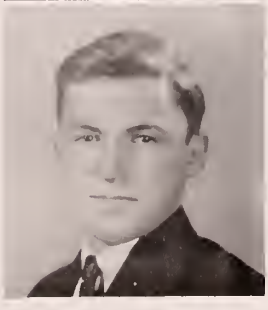
Dorothy's studies occupy her school hours completely and the high scholastic rank she has attained has been well earned. We are sure that, as a secretary, Dot will be efficient and well liked. Here's to joy, Dot!

EWALD L. KRAUKLIN

"Music hath charms"

A smile and a violin are the only tools which Ewald needs to realize his hope of someday becoming the leader of a symphony orchestra. Modesty and friendliness, contrary qualities, are both virtues of this tall Rubinoff.



HAROLD WILLIAM KRESS

"Easy shall thy passage be"

Lieutenant, Cadets — Traffic Squad

A prominent senior who is one of our popular male students, "Kressy", with his slow smile, is quick witted and studious. As a member of the traffic squad, he has preserved order in our corridors very competently.

JOSEPH E. LAROCHELLE

"The mind's the standard of the man"

Football 2, 3, 4
Baseball 2, 3, 4
Basketball 2, 3, 4
Student Council 2
Vice President 4
Blue & White 4
Traffic Squad

The memory of Joe's spectacular football playing is one of the most vivid memories of the class of '38. The pluck and determination of this human dynamo is astonishing. Joe certainly did his best to drive the team to a victory over Punchard. Good going, Joe!

ALICE L. LASSIG

"Oh, Happiness! Our being's end and aim!"

MAE BEDA LEE

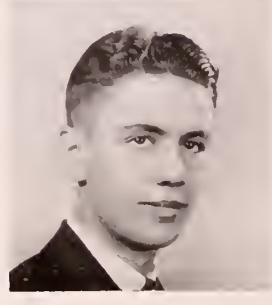
A petite senior, Mae is known mainly for her cheerful disposition. She, with "Chickie," can often be found trying to finish her work in the lab in time to go to the movies. Your delightful smile should bring you luck, Mae.

MILDRED IRENE LORDEN

"She is more prudent;
and her expectations the seldomer fail her"

Senior Play Committee

Irene's friendly personality is prominent among her classmates. She is always willing to relate the stories of her visits to famous places to those of us who remained at home, and we all hope that she will continue to go to amusing spots. Good luck in your nursing career, Irene!



MICHAEL K. MARIOLIS

"Whether he thinks too little or too much"

Captain, Cadets
Track Team 4
Traffic Squad

"Mike" is usually the victim of at least one practical joke every day, and has proved that he can "take it." Mike, well known in our halls by his infectious grin, has been voted Class Woman Hater. Since his chief characteristic is sociability, the more thoughtful members of the class believe that Mike is deceiving us.

JOSEPH BERNARD MASASCHI

"Good luck befriend thee"

Football 2, 3, 4 — Treasurer 4
Baseball 2, 3, 4 — Blue & White Staff 4
Student Council 3 — Class Will

Between this senior and many attractive girls, notes have been passed all year. Although he was voted Class Brute, that has nothing to do with his charming manner—which makes the girls detour through the hall—but with his size. You've been the cause of many heartthrobs, Joe, and we know you will be as popular at the Coast Guard Academy as you are with us.

RITA M. McKENZIE

"How charming is her smile"

Another future secretary is Rita McKenzie. After her graduation, she plans to further her training at a business school. Popular, dark, and peppy, Rita will make an efficient secretary. Good luck, Rita!

ADELINE MAE MOORE

"With a smile and a song"

Class Poem — Cheer Leader

An impersonator of great ability, Adeline delights her friends with clever caricatures. Her singing also is well known and has been featured in the "Blue and White Revue." We hope someday to hear our dark haired songbird over the air waves, so sing your way to the top, Adeline.

LUCILLE AMY MORENCY

"Nothing is work unless you would rather be doing something else"

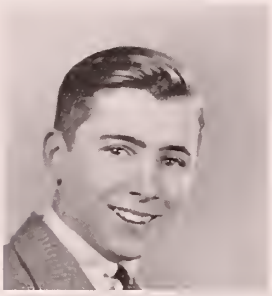
In Lucille's philosophy, then, there is no work. She is outstanding in the class of '38 by her sincere desire to help others. A quiet and retiring girl when there is no work for her to do, we wonder what she is really like.

ELSIE ILA MORLEY

"I shall coin your golden hair"

Salutatorian — Year Book Staff
Various Committees

Our class blonde is also one of our most brilliant students. Her ability to attain a high scholastic standing, make many friends, and have a wonderful time in high school is envied by no small number. "Blondie" has chosen nursing as her profession, and we sincerely say—"Lucky patients."



BERNARD MESKELL MOYNIHAN

"Time is valuable—waste it not"

Blue & White Staff 4 Traffic Squad 4

A small figure, rushing through the halls and speaking to everyone, is sure to be "Bernie." His business-like efficiency has shown itself in his high school work, and because of it, we predict a future filled with sunshine, reflected from his own sunny smile.

AGNES MADELINE NAIMAN

"Ginger Rogers—look to your laurels"

Student Council Cheer Leader
Blue and White Staff 4

Here we have the class Ginger Rogers. Agnes, with her happy smile, has won friends among all classes in the school. Her dancing is a source of wonder and admiration to all, and her cheer-leading was a spur to the team to do its best. Thanks for your laughter and smiles, Agnes.

CHARLES G. NEWTON, JR.

"Swing is here to sway"

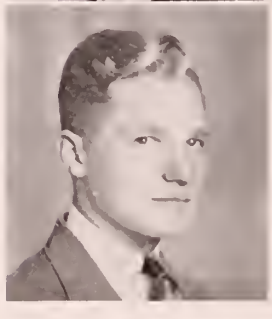
Track 2, 3, 4 Football 4

Charlie, known to his friends as "Baron," excels in football and track. In Charlie we also find a versatile musician—shall we say a one-man band? He is witty, sociable, and always willing to lend a helping hand to any prank. We wish you a successful swing life with things swaying your way.

ELSIE MAY NICHOLL

"Still waters run deep"

Elsie, one of our seemingly quiet seniors, likes her share of fun as well as anyone else. Quietness has proved an asset to her, winning her many true friends as well as an "outside interest." Considering her talent as a stenographer, we prophesy great achievements for her in the business world.



JAMES CARL NIMMO

"Youth's a stuff that will not endure"

Blue & White Staff Cadet Staff

This blond, good-looking young man has shown his dancing talents at all our parties. Jimmy is very popular, especially with the girls. He always takes life as it comes, and leads a double life. In the classroom, he conforms to rules, and is serious, but outside he is peppy, friendly, and smiling.

AGNES ADA OTTO

"Whilst thus I sing, I am a Queen"

Agnes, that fun-loving fraulein, prides herself on her accuracy in bookkeeping and her numerous hobbies, among which is singing. She wishes to become an opera singer, and we say to her "See you in the opera, Agnes."

FRANK EMIL PALUMBO

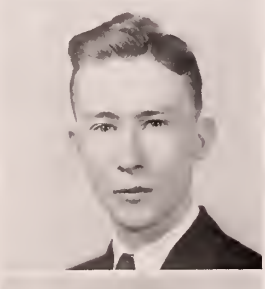
"Eyes are the windows of the soul"

Frank is a very quiet boy in school, but outside we hear that he is very, very different. He has won a host of friends, who are all agreed that his beautiful eyes are worthy of notice. Here's to you, Frank; may they brighten your highway of life!

SUSAN PERRONE

"Petite, peppy, and pretty—Our Susie"

Who could ever forget Susie's happy smile, her cheery way, her merry laughter, and her charming personality? Susie is the "petite femme" of our senior class. May she always keep her winning ways, and continue to be her own neat self.



DANA ANDREN PETERSON

"Earnest and diligent—success is his"

Senior Play Committee 4 Track 3

Dana is a quiet person about whom it is difficult to learn much because he is so unassuming and retiring. One of Dana's outstanding accomplishments is dancing. He is a good student, and since faithfulness and earnestness are two of his characteristics, he is certain to succeed in whatever line of endeavor he follows. May you find success just around the corner, Dana.

JEAN POLLARD

"A daughter of the gods is she—
Divinely tall and most divinely fair"

Year Book Staff Senior Play

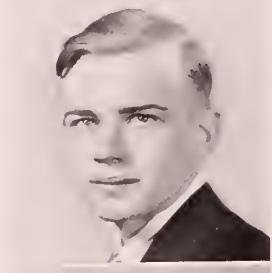
Jean is an attractive, intelligent, and sophisticated young lady who is liked by all who know her. She has participated in many school activities, but the one we will always remember her in, is the Senior Play. She is planning to enter college in the fall, after which her ambition is to operate a dress shop. Stay as lovely as you are, Jean.

WILLIAM JOSEPH QUIGLEY

"With buttons all ashine"

Traffic Squad

"Billy" is a boy who deals very seriously with all his activities, both military and scholastic. Bill has given us very little time to know him, but we feel sure that with his congenial manner he will find success waiting for him in his ambition to become a soldier. There is something about this soldier that is fine! fine! fine!



HOWARD FREDERICK REUTER

"I envy not kings"

Who could ever forget loyal and quiet "Howie?" Perhaps you've never even heard of him because he chooses an algebra or a trig. book for amusement rather than talking nonsense with his classmates. In his own inconspicuous way he has made friends simply by being a friend. Our class has indeed been fortunate in having you as a member, Howard, and we wish you all the luck you deserve.

KENNETH HUBERT ROBINSON

"Don't forget, Napoleon was short, too;"

Year Book Staff Band 3

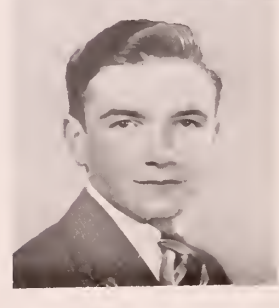
Good things come in small packages, we've been told. How true this is of Kenneth! We'll never forget this happy little fellow, the baby boy of our class. That sunny disposition of his helped us over many a dull day. We understand that your ambition is to become a doctor, and we know that your patients will have speedy recoveries because you are so cheerful, Kenny.

VERA FRANCES ROBINSON

"With fair play foremost"

Basketball 2, 3, 4

Vera, that great athlete and artist, will always be remembered for her true sportsmanship. To her friends she is known as an all-round girl; to the senior class, a hard worker; and to the world we are sure she will be an asset. We expect to hear from you, Vera, in sports or in art.



CHARLES HERBERT RODGERS

"I love the life I live"

Baseball 2

Herbie's booming voice and hearty laugh can always be heard echoing through the high school corridors. If you are craving fun and excitement, Herb is the boy to see. Herbie intends to go to Amherst College after he leaves high school, so we say "Get ready, Amherst. Here comes Methuen's merriest boy!"

ROSALIE BENT ROGERS

"Wise is she who talks but little"

This introduces you to one of our most intelligent girls—Rosalie. Her quiet good humor and personality have won her many friends during her school life. To the seniors, Rosalie is studious and silent, but she likes fun and is an excellent companion. May you continue to cultivate your charm, Rosalie.

ALBERT R. ROUSSEAU

"If at first you don't succeed, try, try again"

Another one of those persons who haunts the lab during all spare periods, Albert is well known to the rest of the "mad chemists." His plodding determination is an asset to anyone who wishes to get ahead. We're right behind you, Albert, in all your endeavors.

DORIS LUCILLE RUSHFORTH

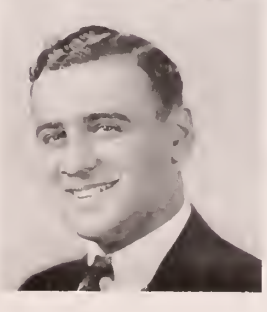
"The music in my heart I bore
Long after it was heard no more"

Doris' demure and shy mannerisms have won for her many sincere friends. Her songs and sweet voice will never be forgotten by Methuenites. We hope your harmony will extend to everything you attempt, Doris, and we are proud to have you as a classmate.

SHIRLEY VIRGINIA RUSHFORTH

"She goes singing her way through life"

Shirley has always pleased everyone with her ladylike manners and sparkling smile. Though inclined to be silent in regard to conversation, she makes up for it in good measure by her singing, which fills many festivities with sunshine. Lots of luck, Shirley, in your ambition to become a nurse. We know your patients will be cheered by your smile and your song.

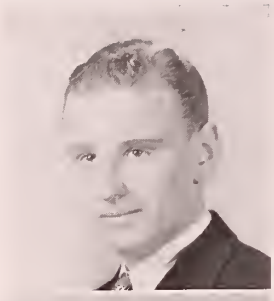


JOSEPH J. SABA

"Smashing through that line"

Football 2, 3, 4

A muscular, hard-charging, hard-hitting man of the gridiron, Joe is one of our great football stars, and is regarded by some as a prodigy with a football. If you hit the problems of life the way you hit that line, you will have little trouble in making good. Keep charging, Joe.



KURT WALTER SCHLEICHER

"Whose high endeavors are an inward light
That makes the path before him always bright"

Senior Play — Lieutenant, Cadets

Kurt is one of our favorite Lieutenants. This modest young man surprisingly revealed great talents in his splendid performance in our senior play. We expect to hear big things from you, Kurt, so don't disappoint us, will you?

ELLIOT VERNON SCHUBERT

"With a natural instinct to discern what knowledge can perform"

Class Prophecy

Although Elliot is one of the quiet boys of the class and makes his studies his hobby, he is friendly and obliging. We are sure that if all the pupils in his home-room were as quiet and attentive as he is, Miss Lord would have an ideal class. We wish him as much success in life as he has had in school.

ALFRED SHINNER

"In worth and excellence he shall outgo them"

President 3, 4 — Traffic Squad
Basketball 3, 4 Captain 4 — Major, Cadets
Various Committees

Every community has a leader. If that leader is a poor one, the community suffers, but if he is a good one, the community profits. Alfred is our leader and no class could ask for a finer person to take the helm. Although he has many titles—Major, President, Captain—it is his personality we will remember. As a Civil Engineer, you are slated for bigger and better things. Happy days, Al!

DONALD M. SILLITER

"A happy youth is beautiful and free"

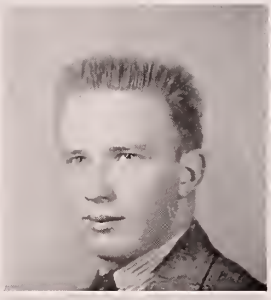
Traffic Squad

If you must have a rough-house, don't count on Don. He is among the neatest in the class, and as an all-around good fellow you can't do better. A well-liked cadet officer, we have all had ample chance to receive one of his famous smiles. Good luck, Don!

ETHEL SKAFF

"Rushing here and there,
with never a minute to spare"

Ethel is one of our busy girls, who believes in making every minute count. Her dark hair is the envy of every girl in high school, and her charming smile is much admired. Ethel deserves success because she is a diligent worker and has a merry disposition. We're rooting for you, Ethel!



WILLIAM KERSHAW SNOW

"I came; I saw; I conquered"

Football 4 Traffic Squad 4

Bill was a welcome addition to our class, who came in our Junior year, and in two weeks was "Hail fellow well met." His smile, "teddy bear," and personality will pull him out of his future troubles. We have often been asked whether "Wheaties" gave Bill his build, but he has never divulged his secret.

JACK STEVENS

"Joy have I had"

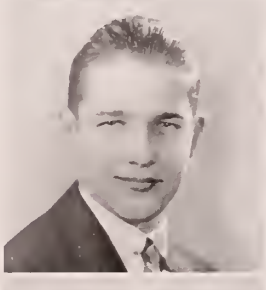
Jack is the easy going type of fellow in school work, but where there is excitement you'll always find Jack in the middle of it. Our scatter-brained friend is a source of amusement, but we couldn't get along without him. Keep on being indispensable, Jack!

IRENE E. STONE

"Devotion, patience, courage, fortitude abound in her"

Year Book Staff
Secretary 2, 3, 4 Various Committees

"See Irene Stone about—" has become a frequent notice on our high school bulletin, for our efficient secretary has been very busy serving the class of '38. With her cheery smile, she has easily reached the top, both socially and scholastically. May continued success be yours, Irene.



WALDEMAR STRAUTEN

"So faithful in love; so dauntless in war"

This handsome blond youth is our best-dressed boy. As he stands at his traffic post in the middle of the study hall, he is the object of admiring glances, and we've known girls to detour up to the third floor! We've enjoyed your violin playing, "Butch!" The best of everything, Wally.

JEREMIAH M. SULLIVAN

"Better three hours too soon than a minute too late"

Jerry, the boy who never fails to stroll in at the last minute, keeps everyone on his toes worrying whether he'll come or not. Taking all good-natured kidding with good grace, Jerry is one of our favorite seniors. We are told that he will someday be lawyer Sullivan, and we wish him much luck. We'll know whom to call when we are caught for speeding!

JOHN SUZEDELYS

"I have had companions in my youthful school-days"

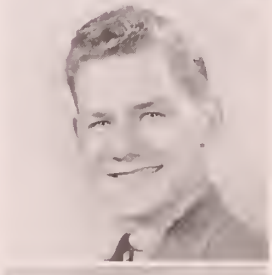
John is the class comedian. His witty jokes and bright sayings are well known by the entire student body. His scientific farming is always a topic of conversation where John is, and we know that his labors will bear fruit. Keep plowing, John.



JAMES RONALD TAYLOR

"When you're away, I'm restless, lonely, wretched, bored, dejected"

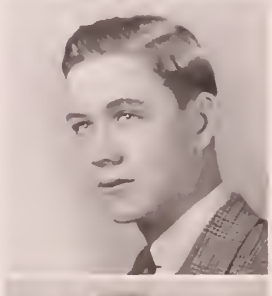
Ronnie Taylor, heaven's gift to the ladies, was our unanimous choice for class "Fred Astaire" He is the boy that Arthur Murray consults about the latest dance steps, you know. Ronnie is very versatile, for he is also our best Mexican Athlete, a master at his art, we assure you. If in doubt, question any of the girls of M.H.S.

DOROTHY MIRIAM TINSCH

"Ever let fancy roam;
Pleasure never is at home"

Dorothy is an interesting companion, as she has traveled a great deal and delights in relating amusing accounts of places she has visited. Quiet and modest, Dot is a welcome addition to any group. We wish you luck, Dot, in your future life.



RAYMOND TURCOTTE

"Together we stand; divided we fall"

Ray is one of those phenomenal boys who can always manage to arrive at school at the last possible minute. He is always found wherever you see Jack Stevens, for the two are inseparable. A great favorite with everyone, diminutive Ray is a jolly friend.

HAROLD JOHN WEISS

"Courteous and charming—
His smile is disarming"

Orchestra 2, 3, 4 Football 3
Band 3, 4 Track 3, 4

Courtesy is Harold's greatest virtue, and he always has a cheery smile and a gay word for everyone. His smile is so contagious that those he meets unconsciously go in smiling. We owe much of our happiness to Harold, and wish him success in his musical career.

MARTHA FRANCES WIELAND

"Roses are her cheeks"

A giggle greets us just outside of school—it is Martha. Although she is quiet inside the school walls, her natural exuberance gets the upper hand the moment that that door closes behind her, and we really meet our classmate. Cheerio, Martha!

EDWARD WILSON

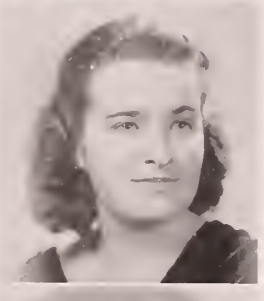
"Just pleasure and laughter—
That's all that he's after"

This tall member of our class joined us in our Junior year, when he left Lawrence High. Laughter is present wherever Eddie is, as he is one of our more pleasant students. We're glad you are in the class of '38, Eddie, and we wish you luck. May you find laughter lurking in every corner.

MARY WILSON

"I love tranquil solitude"

Mary is a red-head, but her calmness is unbelievable, as it is not generally associated with carrot tops. No signs of a flaming temper have ever been visible in our sweet Mary. With her determination to get ahead, we are sure that she will do just that. We'll keep an eye on that flaming hair, Mary.



MILDRED EVELYN WOLGER

"The smiles that we love best, with morning blushes on her cheek"

Blue & White Staff 4

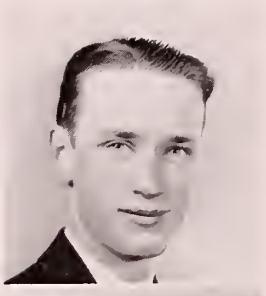
Mildred's charming smile and attractive personality are popular in the class of '38. We've seen Mildred baffle the boys, delight the girls, and be agreeable and pleasant to everyone, so we feel qualified to predict success for her as a kindergarten teacher.

CHARLOTTE ANNE WOODBURN

"Endowed with that rare gift—courtesy"

Girl Reserves 3, 4

Charlotte is a neat, well-mannered girl who has graced our social affairs by her presence. Her ability in the class room is great. Charlotte has been an important member of the Girl Reserves for two years, and works hard for the interests of that club.



DONALD V. WRAY

"Such clever figures from his fingers fly"

Blue & White Staff 3, 4 Senior Play

Here we have a remarkable comedian and a budding cartoonist. His portrayal of "Herman" in the class play almost stole the show from Pat and Art! He shows his humor and love of fun in his drawings, and keeps rather quiet at other times. See you in the funnies, Don!

ELIZABETH YOUMANS

"A friend, tried and true"

Basketball 4 Girl Reserves 2, 4

Our favorite "Sonja Henie" is a quiet, smiling girl who has gone calmly through high school as a loyal member of her class. Her constant backing of all affairs and her basketball playing made her indispensable to us all. We wish you joy, Betty, you deserve it.

JOHN BOGANNAM

"He finds laughter everywhere"

Baseball 3, 4

We all know what a grand "pal" John is. Although he has a mischievous streak in him, he knows how to be serious. How about it, girls? All kidding aside, John, we wish you the best of luck— Cheerio!

JOSEPH CHAPMAN

"A man of few words is he"

Joe seems, to a casual observer, to be a very quiet young man, but we all know that he can make his share of noise. There is a saying that men of few words are most likely to succeed, and we hope this will be true for Joe. Maybe Joe's writing will make him an outstanding author. We wish you success, Joe!

LEONARD A. DAIGNEAULT

"Youth is full of pleasures"

We know little about Leonard, for he came to us late in the year. However, as a teaser of our girls, he has done just as well as those who have been in the class much longer! Good luck, Leonard!

HENRY JOHN GOURDEAU, JR.

"Witty, smiling, gay—here's luck along your way"

Einstein has nothing on this young man, for Henry is a shark at mathematics and chemistry. Although he is rather quiet, he has a host of friends who know his jovial side. Keep smiling and plodding, Henry, and success will be yours.

VICTOR A. KAZANJIAN

"Crime considered as one of the fine arts"

Introducing our ace detective, Victor. If you are baffled by any aspects of criminology, just take your trouble to Victor and he will proceed to solve it easily. Mr. Byrne should call him in when the erasers disappear!

MILDRED KENNEY

"Fair maid, be not so shy"

Mildred is another of those girls whose smile always scores a hit. Her apparent quietness is only on the surface, and it covers a vivacious spirit. We are all glad that you deserted Lawrence High for Methuen, Mildred.

FREDERICK NELSON LEE

"He who knows not mathematics cannot know any other science"

Fred has been called the Einstein of our class in view of the ability he has shown in chemistry and physics. His hobby as an amateur radio fan, and his short wave station of W1JZN will carry him far up the ladder to fame. We'll be listening for you, Fred.

PHYLLIS LOUISE LOVELAND

"'Tis folly to be wise"

The most vivid memory of Phyllis is her witty way with Mr. Beaumont in the fifth period history class. Pep is a synonym for this dark-eyed lass, and we know that her cheerful philosophy will aid her in a career as a beautician.

EARLE MITCHELL

"Never get that work done, sleeping in the sun"

The trial of Miss Lord's life in French class, which Earle considers just another chance to catch up on sleep, is he. Many times he has been caught sleeping, much to the amusement of the class in general. We are sure that he will go places, if he stays awake long enough!

MADISON JOHN MITCHELL

"I see bright honor sparkle through your eyes"

He's a quiet fellow in school, but we have every reason to believe that he is very different when once outside the walls. His sense of humor is renowned, and will carry him far. We all wish him luck as he graduates.

JOSEPH MONETTE, JR.

"Be gone, dull care"

Where Joe is, there is never a dull moment, for Joe is one of those people who thrive on excitement. If he were the sole judge of his French papers, every one of them would deserve a star! Keep on your merry way, and you'll earn many stars, Joe!

FREDERICK JOSEPH MORAN

"Haste makes waste"

Football Basebail

In the midst of all the hustle and bustle of life at M.H. S., strolls our Fred. This easy-going young man has endeared himself to us by his never-failing ability to be just where you want him. Take your time, Fred, and you'll reach the top!

DOROTHY A. SMITH

"Beauty is truth; truth beauty"

Neat, attractive, and serene, Dorothy is one of our comrades who has little time for the frivolities of school life while there is still English to be prepared. At odd moments, Dot can be found refreshing her memory to insure perfect preparedness in class. Her efficiency assures her success as a nurse, and we wish her happiness.

CLASS HISTORY

GOING back to the beginning of English history, it is significant to note that in earliest writings, the chronicle was most prominent. Men have always kept accounts of the events in their lives, first by word of mouth, in oral tradition, and later written in the rudiments of language. In early Anglo-Saxon days, monks toiled long hours in abbeys, recopying such manuscripts, and adding day by day to the growing history. They took pride in the past, however legendary, and were filled with the urge to be remembered in future generations, to be part of this march of history.

For three years, we have been adding our history to that of preceding classes—a history of deep friendships and shared experiences. Today, as we open our chronicle to review the recordings of our activities here, we see ourselves becoming an integral phase in the tradition of our School.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

First Day of School: Our first day in high school! As we entered the door, we saw, facing us, Lincoln's statue, a sight which has greeted us daily for the last three years. Now it seems strange that we could have become lost in this, our High School, but we all were bewildered that first day by the many, but not quite adequate, directions given us by the Seniors.

First Assembly: The first assembly of the class of 1938, at which we met, and immediately liked, our new principal, Mr. Skillings, was for the purpose of electing the class officers. The leaders for the year were: President, Arlene Eichorn; Vice president, Louis Bruno; Secretary, Irene Stone; Treasurer, David Christison.

Our representatives to the Student Council were Alfred Kayworth and Joseph Larochelle.

Sophomore Reception: We were initiated into the social life of the High School at the annual Sophomore Reception tendered us by the Seniors. At the end of the grand march, an "M" was formed, and immediately following, Raymond Wilde, president of the Senior Class, presented Arlene Eichorn, president of our class, with the traditional red carnations. In referring to the dance which followed, a columnist of the Blue and White announced that we Sophomores had not yet developed our Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers tendencies.

JUNIOR YEAR

First Junior Assembly: At an assembly held on the lawn, we, the class of "38" elected for our officers of the coming year the following: President, Alfred Shinner; Vice president, Robert Huebner; Secretary, Irene Stone; Treasurer, Bart Barry.

Additional members of the Student Council, elected at this meeting were Louis Bruno, Margaret Jenkinson, and Joseph Larochelle.

Washington and Franklin Medal: The Washington and Franklin medal, instituted in 1920 by George Hale Nutting, in memory of his son, John Freeman Nutting, for excellence in the study of United States history in high schools was awarded this year to Antonietta Chiavaro. History books were also awarded to Francis Bailey, Kathleen Connor, Grace Henderson, Alice Janian, Ila Morley, Jerry Sullivan, and Rosalie Rogers.

Class Ring: Our class ring, chosen by a competent committee, was one which met with instant approval. The ring is of gold, with a crest of the Searles castle surmounted by a maroon "M," in keeping with our class colors.

Junior Picnic: The Junior Picnic gave us our last opportunity to gather as a Junior class, and we certainly made the most of it. Since our picnic was held at Canobie Lake on the same day that the Sophomores and Seniors had their picnics there, a friendly spirit of rivalry existed among the three classes. In the morning the boys played baseball, with the girls as spectators, but in the afternoon, everyone frequented the amusements and the swimming pool. We shall always remember the fun we had that day.

SENIOR YEAR

Election of Officers: Now well acquainted with the assemblies held on the lawn, we Seniors answered the fire-drill signal with anticipation of our first Senior assembly, which proved to be for the purpose of electing the class officers. Those chosen to represent our class were: President, Alfred Shinner; Vice president, Joseph Larochelle; Secretary, Irene Stone; Treasurer, Joseph Masaschi.

Sophomore Reception: As Seniors, it was our turn to welcome the incoming Sophomore class. In past years, Seniors had indulged in that particular sport of hazing the Sophomores. Now, that tradition has dwindled until a feeling of friendship and trust is encouraged among the two classes. The Sophomore Reception gave us a chance to make the Sophomores feel at home.

Senior Play: This annual play, presented by our classmates, was a pronounced success. Arthur Byrne was the dashing hero in the light comedy, while Margaret Jenkinson played the part of a mischievous young lady. We all laughed as Donald "Herman" Wray appeared in search of his correspondence-course sweetheart, Kathleen Connor. Other members of the cast included Harriet Dunkason, Alice Lassig, James Nimmo, Jean Pollard, anl Kurt Schleicher. Look out, Broadway!

Senior Party: Our Senior Party, held this year in the High School hall, was well attended by all classes. Dancing was the main interest, although refreshments ran a close second. The picturesque setting of the hall added much to the gayety of the occasion. May all future Senior Parties be as much enjoyed!

Military Ball: One of the most anticipated dances of the year is the Military Ball, and those who attended this year were not disappointed. The Grand March, a colorful array of couples, was led by Major Alfred Shinner, and his partner Dorothy Garry. Dancing followed to the rhythm of Ed Harvey's orchestra. During the evening, a group of cadets, under the direction of Colonel Patnaude, gave an exhibition of the manual of arms. Of those who attended, many felt that this ball might be the last at which the blue and white uniforms would be displayed.

This afternoon, with Class Day exercises, we close our history. The experiences we have encountered will fortify us against future problems, for we have learned, "Not for school, but for life."

Robert Hume

CLASS PROPHECY

Kathleen: Good afternoon, Professor Schubert. I'm Miss Connor from the Daily Prattle. I'd like to interview you about your new invention, the Visagraph. Would it be convenient for you to give me a demonstration of its miraculous powers?

Elliot: Why certainly, Miss Connor. Just sit right here and I'll start the machine. After fifteen years of intense research, I have perfected my invention. You have heard, of course, of its uncanny ability to portray on this small screen scenes which are taking place at this moment in any part of the world. What would you like to see first?

Kathleen: Well, start with the Big League ball game between the Red Sox and the Yankees. Oh, there's Bill Fox on the mound with Joe Monette up at the bat! And John Bogannam, the ace sports commentator, is in the stands broadcasting every hit, run, and error. My goodness, if Arthur Byrne, Newton Briggs, Harold Hyde and Bob Huebner aren't still warming the bench! And there are those prominent baseball fans: Claire Garrity, Vera Robinson, Virginia Hardman, and Dot Bourgeois with her old companion, Marion Burke. Well, Professor, that was an excellent beginning. What can you show me next?

Elliot: I'll try the Lawrence courthouse now. I understand there is an interesting trial going on. There's Judge Jerry Sullivan presiding, with Donald Cregg as the prosecuting attorney, and Michael Mariolis acting for the defendant, Alice Hyde. It seems Alice forgot to pay Edgar Gaumond the small sum of $319.95 for repairs on her car which was damaged considerably when she crashed into one of Herbert Findeisen's ice cream trucks. Important witnesses are Helen Bishop, Bernice Chadwick, Antoinette Bonanno, Joe Chapman, and Grace Henderson. It looks very much as though Mr. Cregg will win his case.

Now, Miss Connor, I'll turn to the new hospital which Ronny Taylor, the millionaire playboy, donated to Methuen.

Kathleen: By all means, Professor. Doctor Ganley, with her associate, Doctor Hume, is to perform a delicate brain operation on Fred Bohne this afternoon. Fred should have a very pleasant stay with such lovely and capable nurses as Ila Morley, Pearl Adams, Pauline Austin, Mary Wilson, Betty Youmans, Irene Lorden, and Mae Lee. Malcolm Bennert, Bill Barraclough, Alice Lassig, Bernard Moynihan, Earl Mitchell, and Fred Moran are taking much needed rest cures.

Let's change the scene of action to the new Cunard Liner "President Shinner," named after the President of the United States of America.

Elliot: Why yes, the "President Shinner" has many important people aboard. Louis Bruno and his Swingaroos, consisting of such notable girl musicians as Martha Henning, Grace Hawkins, Lois Harris, Naimy Gabour, Marion Bell, Ruth Beanland, and Dorothy Jean provide the dance music, with vocals by the Rushforth sisters, Doris and Shirley, and Adeline Moore. All passengers can feel perfectly safe in all kinds of weather with Captain William Quigley in command.

Kathleen: I'm sure they can, Professor. And now what about that new department store that Charles Newton designed? Can you show me what is going on there?

Elliot: My machine can show you anything you wish. Here it is. There's Alfred Kayworth, the general manager, telling James Nimmo just what he thinks of him. Poor Jimmy, he believed he could give his department a boost by having a sale. The trouble is he halved the price, and despite the fact that sales doubled, the company has gone into debt for $2,000. Among Alfred's clerks are Leonard Daigneault in the sporting goods department, Dorothy Carney of the jewelry department, Janet Collins who gives permanent waves, and Jean Pollard displaying the latest fashions. One can find all the latest material in Elsie Nicholl's up-to the-minute book counter. Lovers' quarrels are cleared up by Pat Jenkinson's Advice to the Lovelorn Service on the tenth floor. Eugene Buco is an enterprising buyer for the concern. The store is kept in perfect order by Frank Palumbo, Herbie Rodgers, and Sam Gabour.

Kathleen: A couple of the U.S. Navy destroyers have just docked at Charlestown Navy Yard. Let's see if any of our old school mates are members of the crew. Why, there's George Dobbins, who is a junior officer under Joe Masaschi. Well, lo and behold, if there isn't Kurt Schleicher in the galley, and Joe Saba, Harold Weiss, Fred Lee, John Hoegan, and Bart Barry walking down the gang plank!

Elliot: Yes, and there are Henrietta Beaulieu, Pauline Boynes, Dorothy Boothby, and Harriet Dunkason waiting for their husbands who are navy men also.

Kathleen: Our eminent florist, Herbert Reuter, has just erected another large hothouse to supply the demands of his customers. You know, I'd like to see his buildings.

Elliot: No sooner said than done. Look! There's Howard himself surrounded by all kinds of beautiful flowers. His assistants, Dorothy Tinsch, John Suzedeleys, and William Snow have their hands full even during these summer days.

Kathleen: Can you show me the new Majestic Theatre which has just opened? Ewald Krauklin, one of our foremost violinists, has just started an engagement there.

Elliot: Very well, here we are. Ewald has just finished his third encore. Agnes Otto, the opera singer, accompanied by Florence Allatt is next on the program. Those supplementing the cast are the famous dance team of Raymond Turcotte and Barbara Evans, Alice Janian, the blues singer, and the famous comedian, Joe Larochelle, and his stooge, Kenny Robinson.

Kathleen: I hear Faith Kenney has just opened an exclusive photography shop on Essex Street. Shall we see that next?

Elliot: Of course.

Kathleen: To pose for magazine covers, she employs many beautiful models among whom are Lillian Brearley, Susan Perrone, Rosalie Rogers, Bertha Freeman, Katherine Hanley, Dorothy Smith, Agnes Naiman, Charlotte Woodburn, and Mildred Wolger.

Elliot: It's getting dark now, Miss Connor, but I think there is time for one more picture. What place would you like to see?

Kathleen: Well, I think the fancy dress ball which has just begun in the Glass Slipper ballroom, which is owned and managed by Ethel DuVerger and Antonietta Chiavaro, would be very interesting.

Elliot: All right, here you are. Donald Wray and Dorothy Klein dressed as Maggie and Jiggs are just entering. Wally Strauten, the lumber magnate, has just drawn up in his Rolls-Royce. Wally is dressed as a tree trunk and is accompanied by his business partner, Jack Stevens, who is disguised as a woodcutter. I hope Jack doesn't forget himself.

The line is forming now for the grand march. Why, I can see many of my old schoolmates moving about. There are Harold Weiss, who is an important automobile designer, Martha Wieland, the dietician, Irene Stone, Victor Kazangian, manager of the local golf course, Rita McKenzie, and Lucille Morency.

Kathleen: And over in the corner are Elsie Hetherington, Mildred Kenney and Mary Bullock talking over old times with Olga Katenevich, Ethel Skaff, and Rita Hawkins. Francis Bailey and Madeline Holmes have just come in late. Harold Kress, Madison Mitchell, and Dana Peterson are marching around to the tune of Yankee Doodle. They are dressed as the Three Musketeers. Albert Rousseau did such an excellent painting of a bowl of fruit that Edward Wilson tried to take one of the apples.

Elliot: Well, look at Henry Gourdeau! He looks embarrassed all right. Henry, while trying a juggling act with four very ripe tomatoes, unfortunately slipped on the waxed floor, and the tomatoes continued on their way toward Osan Kachadorian, Rose Kambegian, and Amy Hollinrake. Donald Silliter came to Henry's rescue while Rose DiLavore and Dorothy Espinola helped Osan, Amy and Rose remove the tomatoes from their costumes.

Kathleen: Thank you very much, Professor, for your interesting demonstration. I've enjoyed seeing my school mates again, and now I must report the results of my interview to the editor. Good bye, Professor, and thank you again.

Elliot: Good bye, Miss Connor, I'm glad you had a pleasant afternoon.

IVY ORATION

FINDING OURSELVES

SOME OF US, upon graduating, may continue our education in other schools and in colleges: others may be fortunate enough to secure employment: but in all probability, the great majority of us will for some time simply drift.

Conditions being what they are, we who are part of that great majority, realizing that idleness is demoralizing, should prepare ourselves accordingly. Even if we are unable to go to college, we can educate ourselves in other ways. Libraries are open to us all. Newspapers, if reputable, provide a wonderful source of knowledge. Keeping contact with people and sincerely trying to form new friendships, is a way of learning through personal experience.

This new knowledge and experience will help us to stop drifting and to decide on a definite goal. Once we have determined our purpose, we shall have taken the first step toward finding ourselves. We should know what we want to do, then do it. However, much as we wish to enjoy our work, we should not waste valuable time waiting for a "white collar" job to come our way. If we behave in this manner, we should be like the man who would be president of a company or nothing. We should remember that there is more than one way to attain a high position and not the least important is starting from the bottom and working one's way up.

If we succeed in achieving our goal, if we find ourselves, we should not forget the struggles and disappointments which we experienced, but should consider others and give them a helping hand.

If we fail, as we sometimes shall, we should not lose courage, but should let each failure only serve to inspire us with more determination to succeed. And, to mention a familiar maxim, let us always remember that it is better to have tried and failed in our efforts, than not to have tried at all.

Whether we fail or succeed, let us not be afraid to have ideals. Our forefathers came to America in pursuit of an ideal. They were not afraid to dream, but visualized a land of freedom and of justice. Today, as ever, idealism is vital.

Let us try to find beauty and satisfaction in all that we do. Material things alone do not bring happiness. The wealthiest man is often the poorest, for what he may have in material wealth, he may lack in personal happiness.

Genuine happiness is the result of personal achievement and of being really good. We were all born with a conscience which we should guard carefully lest it become hard and useless.

Let us cultivate a sense of humor. When viewed in the right light, many seemingly tragic things in life are amusing. Let us, however, not laugh at others but with them, and, in addition, if we would learn something of value, let us laugh easily at ourselves.

In every way, then, let us develop our character. If we look ahead and keep on climbing, we shall eventually find ourselves. We might be compared to the persistent ivy which surrounds our school. As a class, we all have the same foundation: a high school education. As individuals, we, like the ivy, shall divide and go our separate ways. In branching out in all directions, let us, like the ivy, secure a firm hold and proceed ever upward.

UNDER the capable direction of Major Alfred Shinner, the Cadet Corps has been very successful, both in military drilling and as a social institution. The Military Ball was well attended and proved to be a gala affair, far surpassing those of previous years. The Corps represented the school in the Memorial Day Parade. The annual Prize Drill concluded the year's activity.

STUDENT COUNCIL

THE responsibility for the school does not lie wholly with the faculty, but a great part of the problems are solved by the Student Council. Each year this body increases in its influence. The council is composed of four Seniors, three Juniors, and two Sophomores elected from the respective classes by popular vote. The following are the members of the Student Council for the year 1938:

Seniors: Bart Barry, President; Margaret Jenkinson, Agnes Naiman, Louis Bruno.

Juniors: Esther Findeisen. Francis Morse. William Fuller.

Sophomores: Dorothy Vogel. William Hewson.

Back Row: R. MacDonald, Manager; F. LaGrange, M. Burke, O. Kachadorian, R. Gordon, Manager.

First Row: H. Chadwick, A. Hall, A. Black, V. Robinson, Captain; R. Bodwell, A. Hyde, C. Hanley.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

WITH Vera Robinson again at the helm, the girls won seven of their twelve games. Under the capable coaching of the girls' athletic director, Miss Dorothy Chadwick, the team played with a fight and determination that was admirable. The efficient manager, Ruth MacDonald, played a large part in the team's victorious record. Helen Chadwick, who has shown brilliant work on the floor, was elected to succeed Vera Robinson as captain of next year's team.

Those who earned their letters were:

SENIORS: Vera Robinson, Capt.; Kay Hanley, Alice Hyde, Ruth MacDonald, Mgr.; Marion Burke, Osan Kachadorian

JUNIORS: Ruth Humphrey, Helen Chadwick, Capt.-elect; Arlene Hall, Alice Black, Ruth Bodwell, Frances Lagrange.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

LED by Captain Alfred Shinner, the boys' basketball team won 11 out of the 21 games played. The high scorer for the season was Arthur Byrne, and "Wimp" Larochelle was runner-up for the honor. Others who won their letters were: George Clark, James Lewis, Bernard Ralph, and Elwood Shuter, Juniors; Albert Gross, William Hewson, and Kenneth Pollard, Sophomores.

With Al Shinner as captain and Albert Klubock as the manager, the team could not fail to succeed. Although they were not always victorious, they never lost their fighting spirit and entered two tournaments. In the Lions Club tournament, the boys reached the semi-finals.

As always, the Punchard and Johnson games proved to be the most exciting. In the Punchard tournament, Methuen won its place in the finals, only to be defeated by Punchard. Although Punchard was later forced to forfeit its wins due to the discovery of an ineligible player, Methuen did not feel that the title belonged here. Next year the team will try doubly hard to capture the trophy.

At the close of a successful season, James Lewis was elected to lead the quintet on the floor next year.

FOOTBALL

AGAIN the team did its utmost to break that Punchard "jinx"—and again it received defeat. The score, however, was so close that it caused much jubilation among the students. Hard battles were fought during the season, and only two ended with victory for Methuen. Captain and quarterback "Joe" Larochelle was a clever and speedy player, often outwitting his opponents. The entire team, coached by John Hannigan and W. Beverly Ingalls, excelled in spirit and determination, and played fairly at all times.

The following Seniors received sweaters and letters:

BASEBALL

THIS year a very successful season was had by the baseball team, under the instruction of Coach Ernest Ramsbotham. On the "diamond," the team's spirit of cooperation helped them to gain the victories over their opponents and we feel sure that each contestant for the various positions on the first nine was working for the glory of Methuen High School.

TRACK

THE track team has been very fine this year, despite the fact that they are still without an indoor track. Their work on the cinders has earned them much praise, particularly B. Barry, J. Harnish, and L. McIlwain. Bart Barry is captain of the team, and a valuable man in the running broad jump and relay team. The relay team showed up well at the meet against Newburyport and won that event. The spirit of the team as a whole is commendable, for they never let defeats discourage them.

Those who have won their letters are:

John Harnish, Francis Morse, Luther McIlwain, and Arthur Byrne.

Back Row: R. Gumb, K. Robinson, D. Kelley, H. Weiss, W. Strauten, T. Sousa, F. Frisselle.

Fifth Row: B. McLean, T. White, C. Bruno, R. Bullock, H. Fitzgerald, K. Landry, D. Harrison.

Fourth Row: A. Hartwig, T. Falcon, M. Bullock, M. Seymour, E. Powell, G. Oldroyd, D. Mack.

First Row: Sitting: T. Chadwick, J. Sousa, R. Janian, K. Pollard, Drum Major; L. Powell, J. Buckley, L. Bruno.

BAND

THE second year Methuen High School has had a band was no less successful than the first. Harold McDonnell, band instructor, and Walter Pearson, music supervisor, have been tireless in their efforts to make this the best school band in the vicinity. The members have been very cooperative and faithful, appearing at the Punchard football game, the "Blue and White Review" which was given for the benefit of the band, and the Memorial Day parade. As a new organization, the band has already proved indispensable to the life of the high school.

Back Row: R. Gumb, S. DiLavore, H. Weiss, L. White.

Second Row: W. Pearson, Music Supervisor; T. Ganley, D. Grenville, L. Bruno, J. Buckley, R. Lambert, H. Whitehead, H. MacDonald; Music Supervisor.

First Row: P. Bogosian, W. Strauten, L. Janian, M. Henning, G. Hawkins, V. Smith, E. Krauklin, J. Falcon.

ORCHESTRA

AN important part of school activities, the orchestra has, as always beways before, added a great deal of enjoyment to such affairs as the Senior Class Play. Mr. Pearson has directed the orchestra conscientiously, and has produced an organization well worth supporting.

SOCIAL EVENTS

SOPHOMORE RECEPTION

To welcome the Sophomores to the High School, the Seniors gave the annual Reception at Central School Hall. President Alfred Shinner of the Senior class led the grand march with Helen Karonski, a Sophomore. Ed Harvey's orchestra played for dancing following the march.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

An amusing comedy, "Happy Days," was presented by the members of the Senior class on December 10 at Central School Hall. The cast was well chosen and kept the audience in gales of laughter throughout the presentation.

SENIOR CLASS PARTY

The Seniors held their class party in the High School on January 14. Andy Van Duren's orchestra furnished the music for dancing.

AFTERNOON DANCES

As a scheme to make money for the Girls' Athletic Association, the girls held an afternoon dance at Central School Hall. A large group attended and had a marvelous time. The financial outcome was a success, so another dance of the same kind was held later at the High School. The Boys' Baseball team also held an afternoon dance at Central School. For all these affairs, music was provided by a nickelodeon.

JUNIOR CLASS PARTY

On February 4, the Junior class held its party at the High School, where they secured a nickelodeon for dance music. The party was financially and socially very successful. The Juniors were the first to break away from the idea that an orchestra was necessary for a dance, and they proved that it takes only a loyal class to make a pleasant party.

MINSTREL SHOW

The second "Blue and White Review" was held in the Central School Hall on February 18 by the members of the High School. The affair was for the benefit of the Band Fund, and was well supported. Following the Minstrel Show, dancing was enjoyed to the music of Ed Harvey's orchestra.

MILITARY BALL

The Central School Hall was the scene of the colorful thirty-second annual Military Ball. The Cadet Corps gave an exhibition and displayed a great deal of skill. .The grand march was led by Major Alfred Shinner and Dorothy Garry, after which Ed Harvey's orchestra played for dancing.

GIRLS' A. A.

Under the direction of Miss Dorothy Chadwick, the girls presented their annual gymnastic exhibition and dance. Dancing, games, tumbling, an Indian club drill, and several novelties were participated in by members of all classes. The evening ended with dancing for which Ed Harvey's orchestra played.
